2023 Allium Sale

Allium Tips and Tricks

- Allium are deer and critter resistant! So, if you have furry friends that like to munch, you are still safe. PLANT AWAY!
- Most Allium prefer full sun. Allium in the sale that tolerate partial shade will be marked with a ❖.
- Allium generally prefer well-drained soil. Soil that is too wet will result in bulbs that rot away.
- Allium may reseed. In order to minimize reseeding, remove flowerheads once they've bloomed, mulch well around allium plants, and remove unwanted sprouts as they come up.
- Allium are generally late spring to early summer bloomers (May/June).
- Allium leaves may start to die back before the flowers finish blooming. Don't worry, this is normal! Plant allium where dying leaves can be masked by the growth of other summer perennials.

Enjoy your Allium!
